SECRETARIES OF CONFERENCES AND MISSIONS

The following list of Secretaries, with their post office addresses, is published herewith as an aid to the Bishops and Conference Secretaries in making the transfers of preachers, especially during the time of the Conference sessions. Often they are hindered, if it should be the Fall Conference that is being held, in making the transfer to a Spring Conference, by not knowing to whom to send the certificate of transfer. It is hoped this may be of advantage both to the Bishop and the Secretary.

This list is correct according to the latest information. SPRING CONFERENCES are designated by a (*). FALL CONFERENCES are unmarked.—EDITOR.

NOTICE

No Questions or Appointments for this year were received from the North China Conference, Rhodesia Mission Conference, or Southeast Africa Mission Conference. In order that they may appear in the record we have reprinted last year's Questions and Appointments.

NOTICE

No Statistics were received from the Italy Conference, Bulgaria Mission Conference, France Mission Conference, Hungary Mission Conference, or the Russia Mission Conference. Last year's figures are used in the Recapitulation at the end of the Statistical Tables.

DEATH ROLL

The Editor plans to make the Death Roll tell a very brief story of each brother who has answered the last call. Many men who write Memoirs do not easily get all the data desired, but they do the best they can. We are grateful for this service. One line in memory of the servants whose work is done.

BISHOP THOMAS BENJAMIN NEELY

Bishop Neely was born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 12, 1841, and died in the same city September 4, 1925, being at that time a little past eighty-four years of age. Not only was he born in Philadelphia and died there, but he spent almost his entire life in or near by the city. He received his education very largely there. His various degrees came from Methodist Institutions of the Church.

In 1865 he joined the Philadelphia Conference, of which he continued a member, either in an active or honorable position, to his death. He was twenty-nine years a pastor in or near the city. For six years he was a presiding elder. In 1900 he was elected by the General Conference Corresponding Secretary of the Sunday School Union and Tract Society, which position he held for four years when the General Conference elected him a bishop and he was assigned to the South American field as his area. In 1908 he was sent to New Orleans and in 1912 was placed on the retired list, which relation he sustained until the time of his death. To him there was no other place quite so dear as the City of Brotherly Love, for in it he spent almost his entire life. While he was assigned to the South American field a portion of each year he was in the United States and Philadelphia was his headquarters, so there has not been a year of the eighty-four, and not very many months of that time, that he was not found on the streets or in the homes of that city. No man was better known in Methodist circles than was he. Probably there is not a Methodist church in the city in which he did not preach at some time or other.

Bishop Neely was a man of strong, dominating personality. He had very positive convictions, and so strong was he in the Conference that for six successive quadrenniums they elected him to the General Conference at the head of the delegation, and when in the General Conference he was very prominent in debate. No subject of importance ever escaped his notice, nor went up or down without his voice being heard on one side or the other. He was one of the greatest debaters of modern times, and every time he spoke he had his facts so clearly in his mind that it was hard to defeat his argument.

In the days when Dr. James M. Buckley was the General Conference leader he had a close follower in Doctor Neely, and almost invariably they were on opposite sides of the great questions. He was very fearless in his statements, having the feeling strongly imbedded in him that he was right. He was one of the most thorough parliamentarians of his day and presided with great ease and dignity.

Very early in his ministry he cultivated the habit of writing and in 1881 his first book, "Young Workers in the Church," was issued. In 1882, "The Church Lyceum"; in 1883 his little volume on "Parliamentary Practice"; and thus he continued up to the end of his career. He wrote very largely on subjects concerning the supervisional system of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the books of which he was the author would make a fair sized library. More than twenty large volumes have been published. No doubt in the coming years many of these will be read to help establish disputed points, on which he wrote very fully.

For several years past he has been failing in health. His wife died in 1912 and since that time he has been alone. She was a woman of fine qualities and her death was a serious blow to him. He kept going as long as it was possible, and the Monday morning Preachers' Meetings almost invariably found him present. He was either preaching on Sundays or worshiping in a church somewhere near at hand. His long life of earnest labor is ended. While he rests "his works do follow him."
